TERMS:

1. The Licensee may exhibit the Program via closed circuit television and/or LAN within the facilities of their Organization. The Licensee may exhibit the Program to their students, employees, and/or general public in their immediate service area. Permission is granted to charge an admission fee, if desired. A Non-Educational Organization may exhibit the Program only to its employees. Employees of the Licensee, whether Educational or non-Educational, do not have the right to distribute passwords which protect streaming videos on the STARLINK web site to persons outside the Licensing Organization. In no event shall the program be exhibited without the complete copyright notices and credits contained herein.
2. Licensee shall have the right to make and retain recorded copies of the Program for playback/audiovisual use solely by licensee employees within its facilities for training and/or educational purposes. Use of the Program must be in the Program's original format. Program may not be edited or altered by Organization without written consent of STARLINK.
3. Licensee shall receive a complete set of printed materials for use in connection with the Program. Licensee shall have the right to reproduce the printed materials for use solely in connection with authorized use of the Program.
4. Licensee may arrange for transmission of the Program on a non-pay cable access channel within its immediate geographic area, provided that such transmission takes place no sooner than one week following release of the program.
5. Licensee shall not duplicate, sell, rent, or part with possession of the recorded copy of the Program or derogate from any rights granted herein. STARLINK programs, DVDs, videotapes, and streaming videos are copyrighted and intended solely for use by employees of member and licensed institutions. Use by any other individual or organization is prohibited by law unless written consent is obtained from STARLINK.
6. The STARLINK Network and its personnel shall not be liable for failure to deliver Programs due to circumstances beyond their control.
7. CANCELLATION POLICY: Organization may cancel License by notifying STARLINK in writing seven working days prior to release of the Program. Organization shall remit a $40 administrative charge in the event of cancellation. License fees, as specified herein, are due in full if Organization fails to notify STARLINK in writing of cancellation at least seven working days prior to the program release.
8. A network license is required for multiple sites within an organization.
