

STARLINK

During the next eight weeks STARLINK will present four 15-20 minute modules of teaching tips in the areas of motivating students, active learning, critical thinking, and assessment. Master teachers from around the country will present research and experience based strategies to improve student learning.

Oct. 22 – Nov. 5, 2012

“Ahead of the Class: Critical Thinking”

“What is Critical Thinking” - Robert Ennis, U. of Illinois

“Fundamental & Powerful Concepts – Gerald Nosich, Buffalo State

“Small Teaching Changes Lead to Big Learning Gains”

James Anderson, Fayetteville State University

Craig Nelson, Carnegie Foundation Professor of the Year

Campus Information:

www.starlinktraining.org

Nov. 5 – Nov. 19, 2012

“Ahead of the Class: Assessment”

“Embedded Questions” - Peggy Maki, Author of “Assessing for Learning”

“The ePortfolio as a Teaching & Assessment Tool”

Brett Eynon, LaGuardia C.C.

Becki Williams, Richland College

Gail Ring – Clemson University

John Zubizarreta, Columbia College

“Giving Feedback: Testing and Grading”

Tom Angelo, Co-author “Classroom Assessment Techniques”

Craig Nelson, Indiana University